

H, a, b, i, t, 4: Think Win - Win

Directions: Read each situation. Decide if the person or people are thinking win-win. Use a thumbs up if they are thinking win-win. Use a thumbs down if they are not. If it is a thumbs down, explain what the person or people should do.

Six friends wanted to play with the hula hoops but there were only 2. Colleen decided they should each get to play with the hula hoop for 5 minutes so they would all get a turn.

Jared wanted to be the first in his class to know all his subtraction facts. He wouldn't practice flashcards with anyone else.

While working on a class project, Sara wanted all her ideas to be used because she thought they were the best. She didn't try to listen to the other ideas that her classmates shared.

John loved to sit next to the window on the bus. Even though that was his favorite spot, he took turns with his seat buddy sitting next to the window.

Max and Sam wanted to read the same book from the class library. They argued over who got to take the book to his seat.
